WILLIAM T. HOLCOMB IS DEATH'S VICTIM

William T. Holcomb, 51 years of age, passed away Wednesday night of last week, at his home, one half mile west of the Normal.

Mr. Holcomb had been in failing health two years prior to his death, due to heart affection, and while he was prevented from engaging actively in business, the end came unexpectedly. For two weeks, however, he had been confined to his bed the greater part of the time, but he was sitting before the fire when he expired.

Mr. Holcomb was born in Perry county, Tenn., and came with his father, the late S. C. Holcomb, to this county at the age of four, and resided here until his death. He had been a produce dealer since early manhood. Mr. Holcomb was a man of high integrity and as such had won the respect and esteem, not only of this community but of neighboring communities. In his daily life he wanted to meet his obligations of every kind. He wanted to be just, he wanted to be helpful.

The surviving members of the immediate family are a widow, three sons, three daughters. The mother, Mrs. S. C. Holcomb, resides on 4th St. There are three brothers: S. F. Holcomb, city; Edgar Holcomb, Hollow Rock, Tenn.; C. H. Holcomb, Lexington, Tenn. The sisters are Mrs. B. C. Washam, city; Mrs. Morton Nisholson, Evansville, Ind.; Mrs. C. Watson, Camden, Tenn.

Funeral services were held from the home Thursday afternoon, and the body was interred in the city cemetery.

Rev. Heflin officiated.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of next week the six basketball teams of Calloway county will battle for supremacy at the Murray State Normal gymnasium. The high school teams in this county taking part will be, Murray, Lynn Grove, Almo, Hazel, Kirksey and Concord. It is probable that the winning team will be the one with the contenders for the Purchase championship this season.

Mrs. P. A. Hart is host to the Arts and Crafts Club this afternoon at her home on W. Main St.

JAS. H. COLEMAN
Announces As Candidate For Re-election to Third Judicial District.

TO DEMOCRATIC VOTERS THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Ladies and Gentlemen:

About five years ago I became a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of this District, and was, by the kindness of the voters, nominated and elected, for which I was then, have since been, and will ever feel grateful.

I promised a faithful performance of duty, and after five years of service my record is before you, and since it has been the unbroken custom of the voters of this District to endorse, when asked to do so, their prosecuting attorneys, should they prove faithful and efficient, I now ask endorsement, and if you feel that I am competent and worthy will appreciate your support and influence, promising to use my best endeavors toward the enforcement of the law.

I thank the officers of the Courts, the jurors and all who have helped in the enforcement of the law during my administration. With appreciation.

Sincerely,
James H. Coleman.

GRATITUDE

There is no word in the English language, the meaning of which carries more gold than that word which appears at the head of this editorial. For years it has been generally conceded everywhere that about the meanest creature on this earth is an ingrate and yet each succeeding generation seems to contribute the usual percentage of such individuals and the world continues to label them and classify them properly as the years go by.

We dare say that in every State in the American Union, yes, in almost every village and hamlet, this breed of "human sponges" is present in numbers sufficient to mark their presence. We have discovered them in churches, schools, clubs, and farm organizations, but they also exist outside the ramparts of human society. They are as a rule the "free riders" of every community. They are long on lung power when complaining is the order of the day, but extremely short on muscular ability when the collection plate is being passed around to secure funds for the common weal or to relieve the suffering of some fellow being. They want the earth and a fence around it, but would not spend one cent to help construct anything. They are ever ready to tear down and criticize but always absent when a little aid from them would assist in building up the section in which they live. They are good borrowers but very poor payers.

On the other hand, it is refreshing to humanity to find in almost every section of America a goodly number of grateful souls who show by their daily lives that they fully appreciate everything that is good and wholesome. If a neighbor is in distress, theirs is the first hand to offer assistance. If an effort is being made to improve the community, you can always count on them to help in every way possible. Their hearts seem to control their brains and they always have a kind word for everybody and look with pity upon those who have gone astray. They are some of God's noblemen and reveal their birth and breeding in their every move. Such persons are a decided asset to any section and the more we have of them just that much better the community seems to be.—National Farm News.

THE PAPOOSE SOCIETY

This Society is composed of the seventh and eighth grades and was organized just before the Christmas season. These children are not eligible for the high school clubs, therefore, they were organized into this baby club, which only gives them good training for the one that comes later.

This organization is due to the efforts of the seventh grade sponsor, Mrs. George Hart. Mrs. Hart assisted in this work by Miss Cattie Beale. With the leadership of these two teachers the Papoose Society is endeavoring to, and succeeding in making the High School work to keep in excellency.

The following officers are serving: Harold Farley, pres., Porter White, Jr., vice pres., Mary Virginia Dinguid, sec., Eloise Irvan, treas., Robbie Broach and O. R. Jeffrey, yell leaders.

The Passion Flower, or the "Aspee," is the adopted flower. "Paddle Your Own Canoe" is the motto, and red and white are the colors.

The opening number of this society was very much in keeping with the name. The baby Indian idea was carried throughout the program. A selected group of these tribesmen appeared on a wooded scene, and gathered around a typical wigwam fire where they danced and sang in natural lute. The chief, Harold Farley, made a beautiful address to the High School Wau-taugans and Chickasaws.

In this address he told how the young tribe began and why it was now in existence. He also made a plea for support from these older tribes. This talk was followed by a history of the society's flower. This talk was given by the squaw or Mary Virginia Dinguid. Another interesting feature of the program was an Indian mother singing her baby to sleep. This was given by Sarah Elizabeth Overbey.

The next program was more interesting than the first. It was given in early January. This time it was representing the children's program at the Chautauqua. The following program appeared:

1 Opening speech by the president—Harold Farley.

2 Reading, "The Bear Hunt"—Virginia F. Crawford.

3 Song, "Mammy's Lil' Col' Black Rose"—Harold Farley and J. R. Williams.

4 Reading, "The Bald Headed Man"—Sarah E. Overbey.

Although we have had only one meeting, the club has accomplished much. The first meeting was held at the home of Martha Sue Gatlin, which was a business meeting. There the newspaper staff was elected and the newspaper was discussed. We thought at first that publishing a newspaper would be a great undertaking, but we decided we could accomplish it with the cooperation of the student body and with the enthusiastic club members.

The club is laying plans for further meetings and interest-

WATAUGANS WIN OVER CHICKASAWS

The Chickasaws went down in defeat before the Wataugans in a hard fought game, Wednesday, Jan. 12, 1927, the final score being 8 to 7.

The game was played at the Murray Normal gym, and was witnessed by many of Murray's ball fans.

The teams were well matched and the game was exciting at all times. William Jeffrey was high point man for the Wataugans, and Oliver (Red) Lewis for the Chickasaws.

TIGERETTES MEET ALMO FIVE

The Tigerettes of Murray High met the Almo five at the Normal gym, Jan. 7. A decisive battle was fought and finally ended in favor of Almo by a score of 3 to 3. Virginia Broach, captain, made all the scores for the Tigerettes. Chapel Wells of Murray refereed the game.

MURRAY DEFEATED

In a game featured by the star playing of Captain Berry and Mulligan for Murray, the Kings for Murray, defeated the Tigers for Murray, Saturday night, Jan. 22, the Tilghman gymnasium.

Both teams showed considerable improvement over their last contest, playing a hard and fast game. King was the high score man for Murray, scoring 10 out of the 12 points made.

Phillip McCaslin.

THE WATAUGAN SOCIETY

The Wataugan tribe was organized in the month of February, 1926. The various society activities started off with a bang and the Wataugans put forth every effort to glorify the name that soon was to become so well known.

Every week we had the privilege of giving a program and these programs were so good that they could not be surpassed by our rival society. Because of the experience gained we came very close to winning the final contest; in fact we got a majority of the points in quite a few of the numbers.

This fall we entered with a new resolve to do our best and boost our society to our utmost ability. The officers were elected: Leighton Purdon serving as president, Martha Elizabeth Parker as secretary and Alma Lee Outland as treasurer.

The programs which we started giving were if such a thing were possible, even better than those which we gave last year, because they were not only interesting, but educational as well.

Naturally, friendly rivalry was again started with the Chickasaws. The ball was set rolling by a girl's basketball game. We lost by a small margin, but with a grip of determination to do better next time; therefore, we welcomed their next challenge for a game between the boys. Needless to say we came out victorious, although we were handicapped by having only two of the first team men on our side. Our boys fought bravely, as all true Wataugans do, and we were proud of them. We only hope that every member of our band will do well in the future as they have in the past and strive to live up to our motto.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our heart felt thanks to those who so beautifully evidenced their sympathy and tenderest care during the recent illness and at the death of our husband and father, William T. Holcomb.

May God ever comfort, strengthen and keep you, is our earnest and sincere prayer.—Mrs. Holcomb and Children

See our line of Spring coats, new plaids and dress coats.—Mrs. Dell Finny, over Wall & Houston.
